Please remember you are part of local currency now and you don't have to earn before you spend. Our system is designed to help people when they need it most and you won't be penalised for going below zero. You are, in fact, helping others by spending G$ (as well as yourself). So wipe out any guilty thoughts if you haven't earned yet and feel free to come shopping at the market this weekend, and/or to contact fellow members from the directory who have the things you are interested in. WAIS members have great gift ideas throughout the whole year. You just have to ask for what you want!

WAIS High St Market, Masterton

It proved to be the perfect day for our High Street trading in October, and as always St James Union Church proved a great venue to hold our market. With 23 stallholders in attendance there was a wide variety of goods for sale. The usual tasty hot munchies satisfied the hungry and those unable to resist the smell of sizzling onions. Three of our new members, pictured below, had their first taste of WAIS shopping and trading at market, and went away encouraged by their great-value trades.

Tammy (left), with her rose quartz rocks, was joined by her friend Hayley, who had baked yummy sweet treats. Quinn (photo at right) teaches bass & guitar, and had already been buying and selling services with two of our WAIS traders in the NZ$ world prior to joining our network. Being able to trade in W$ has seen these members become instant active traders and loving being part of local currency.

In the last few markets we've added an area to sit down and enjoy refreshments, making it a lot more user-friendly for traders and public alike. Rachel in the cap (seated right in photo at left) brought along her friend Lisa for some WAIS shopping, which included a fuel stop for the Stotts' delicious hamburgers. Another service proving popular with our members and the public is five-minute head, neck and shoulder massages (photo at right) by masseuse Dianne. Here Yvonne gets some chilling-out time with Dianne while Anita attends to her bargain original trinkets stall.

It was good to see Sharon back on deck as a stallholder after her recent wrist operation, baking up a storm and making crafts (left) and sharing the space and company with Mary, who hadn't made recent markets due to many other commitments. William & Gillian (right) stand behind "Gills Frills", one of our most regular market stallholders.

Member Profile: Kuripuni Auto Services

WAIS 0098 KURIPUNI AUTO SERVICES, 433 Queen St Masterton,
(06) 377 1471 / 027 577 1008
Warrant of Fitness, Mechanical Repairs, Automotive Servicing

WAIS welcomes another business into our trading exchange with new members David & Suzanne Camps from Kuripuni Auto Services. There's no better time for your pre-holiday car servicing and there's no reason to put off your vehicle repairs any longer. KAS accepts 50% W$ for warrant of fitness and labour costs to get your vehicle in tip-top shape for your summer driving and beyond.

David has spent 40 years working in the industry since he left college and did his apprenticeship in Levin, achieving top marks in the process. He worked at several garages here in Masterton after the couple moved here 24 years ago from Porirua. The move to the Wairarapa came because Masterton was 'a great place to bring up kids'. Suzanne was owner/operator of Stitches for 12 years – dress-making, clothing repairs and selling sewing machines. For the last 12 years, the pair have run their own business at Kuripuni Auto Services. David & Suzanne have been happily married for 29 years and have three children, two grandchildren and a grandson due in January.

While David and their full-time mechanics Colin and Dave are kept busy with tyres and vehicles in the workshop, Suzanne takes care of bookings and enquiries and all the administration work. And there is an extra service available at KAS that won't be found in the other garages around town: you can have your jeans or trousers hemmed. Leave your garments with Suzanne when you're dropping off your car for service or on your way to work or errands, and you can pick up the same day. How handy is that for all the busy people? And for those crafty customers wanting some craftmaking inspiration, have a browse in the office: there's a collection of pre-loved craft magazines for sale in W$.

Community Garden, Masterton

Supergrans officially opened their Community Garden, nextdoor to the Masterton Community Centre, at lunchtime on 27 November. Marie & Wene dished up a tasty and colourful lunch, topping it off with a special cream sponge cake for the attendees, made up of a number of WAIS members, fellow tenants at the community centre, members of the public and Carterton mayor Ron Mark. The garden was opened officially by Masterton mayor Garry Daniell. Instrumental to the thriving gardens is the knowledge and expertise of organic gardener and WAIS member Kim McGuckin, Volunteer garden workers Tony and Kim cut the cake.

and the generous contribution of all the plants from Lansdowne Gardens, which is greatly appreciated by Supergrans. Kim and fellow volunteers Tony and Joe have ensured the successful beginnings of this community venture by giving their time to the making and maintenance of the special 'no dig' gardens. The easiest way to get vegetables growing, it is exactly as it says: no dig!

Anyone can take part in the community garden – weeding, planting, caring for the plants and in exchange you can take home some veggies. For more information call Supergrans on 06 377 3115.

WAIS November Market, Greytown

A warm morning in Greytown brought a great gathering and saw the St John's hall nicely filled with stallholders. Out front our faithful foodies sizzled sausages and home-made patties on the grill. The back yard, beyond the glass doors, was splashed with colour – gazebos, sun-umbrellas and a variety of goods for household use or gift-giving. All in all it made for a vibrant scene of local currency trading.

Stefan's tunes sprinkled throughout the activity and Dianne chilled out the WAIS and the public who were in 'knead' of a little relaxation. The Stotts fed the hungry (left), while Bron, our only Martinborough member (right), sold lovely home-made natural lavender and camomile soaps, which go down well with customers.

It was good to see Jayne back with her colourful wares and original poetry (middle left), and catching up with WAIS folk. Alan (right, closest to camera) joined his wife Tammy with their rose quartz stones and the increasingly popular and very healthy kombucha drinks, which also go down a treat.

Co-ordinator Keith, president Hayden & secretary Lyn (right) amid the four new tables WAIS purchased and donated to the St John's Hall. This was necessary due to the increase in stallholders and the shortage of tables at the venue, and saves us having to bring in more tables on a trailer.
