

Spotlight – Anneleise Hall, WAIS 0025

PET/PEOPLE SKETCHES; BUTTER-COOKIES; PHOTOGRAPHY; HAIR-STYLING & MAKE-UP

Many members will know Anneleise from recent markets where she has been selling mouth-watering butter cookies with various drizzled iced toppings. With customers lined up, she always sells out, but the good news is: if you miss out at the markets, she is happy to do batches of cookies to order for Green $.

Having been instrumental in the Lyttleton TimeBank project, and heavily involved in many other Living Economies sustainability events and ventures, Anneleise is firmly entrenched in the community exchange systems lifestyle.

Anneleise divides her time between house/ animal sitting in Mangakuri (out of cell range but on dial-up internet) and town-living in Masterton. She was recently delighted to discover she has artistic ability and this newfound talent, coupled with the endearment to her animal friends in her part-time country environment, led to her first children's book, The Secret Lives of Sheepdogs. With its eye-catching illustrations and fun, rhythmic poetry it captures the true antics of much-loved rural dogs at home. Anyone interested in pre-ordering a book(s) can email their contact details to Anneleise.

She also has blank gift cards available, featuring some of the lovable farm characters in the book. Early drawings displayed at a recent market sparked many comments and much interest in the pictures and the story behind the book.

New on offer to WAIS is pet/people portraits in pencil, pencil/ink or pencil/ink/watercolour from your favourite photo(s). Anneleise can also do portrait photography and, for the ladies, she can transform you with full make-up & hair-styling before the shoot. Or if you just want a fresh approach to your make-up/hair for that special day or evening event, let Anneleise loose on your "blank canvas" to capture you best cosmetically and breathe self-confidence into you for your social gatherings.
