This enterprising couple are a familiar sight to many in the community. As well as the monthly Green$ markets, Jenny & Remco are regulars at the car boot sales on Sundays & other special markets that come along. They offer their organic products to WAIS members at 50%G$ 50%NZ$ making it easy to make healthy alternative choices in your house-hold needs and save money on your weekly grocery shopping. If it's good for you, they are sure to stock it amongst their large variety of goods.

A small example of their food stuffs would include: rice, cereal, sea-salts, grains, drinks & their top selling herbs & spices. Another popular item is soap-nuts, the natural alternative to commercial washing powders and liquids that choke our environment and damage our skin. Being allergy free, they stop itching or eczemas that can flare up in protest of the chemical residues that are left in clothing and linen after washing. Aromatherapy gives health benefits & makes a nice gift idea, especially teamed up with the lovely soap Jenny & Remco make. They smell great and leave your skin feeling soft.

The Elwin Farm property has been home to 6 alpacas for the last 4 years. A small percent of the fleeces are found among the winter clothing accessories on the sales tables but most are sold for spinning,. Joining Wairarapa Green Dollar Exchange has indeed been a sound move for them. Increasing their business turn-over by a quarter to a third shows what a difference local currency can make from the expanded contacts and loyal members.

Musical WAIS people & the public know Remco & Jenny from their talents, energy and drive in starting up the Folk Club just over 3 years ago. Last on their Green$ offers, but by no means least, they offer business consultancy.
